For Immediate Release:

USA JET AIRLINES EXPANDS PASSENGER FLEET

Belleville, Michigan, February 1, 2006 - - USA Jet Airlines, Inc., a subsidiary of Active Aero Group, announces the addition of a first-class configured DC9-30 to its fleet of executive passenger aircraft. The aircraft is configured with 74 first-class seats, each with individual entertainment capabilities and other amenities.

USA Jet Airlines has operated cargo aircraft since 1995 and primarily services the air charter operations of its sister company, Active Aero Charter. In 2003, USA Jet broadened its scope to include private passenger travel primarily for the executive and group travel audiences. The airline is committed to providing the highest level of safety, security and personal service to its clients and prides itself in offering first-class amenities aboard Dassault Falcon 20 and McDonnell Douglas DC9 passenger aircraft.

"USA Jet is proud of its recent growth with the addition of a 74 passenger DC-9," states Chris Healy, President of Active Aero Group. "Business, sport and entertainment professionals are pleased to find that our aircraft are a very comfortable, affordable, and flexible alternative for on-demand passenger travel."
